Ethel Clayton IN "MAGGIE PEPPER"

Pepper's her name and pepper's her temper. That's the sort of saleslady Ethel Clayton shows you in this picture. She sells goods as natural as life, and can prink her hair and kid the cheap mashers. Gee, it's fine to see a girl who knows how to take care of herself, isn't it?

TO-MORROW, SATURDAY

TOM MOORE

"A MAN AND HIS MONEY"

It is a comedy-drama of society life, with a background of polo matches, country clubs, fashionable drawing rooms and mountain lodges. By no means a light play in spite of its delicate character drawing and satire, "A Man and His Money" tells the story of a young man who is made aware of the futility of his life when his fiancée breaks their engagement.

MARY PICKFORD IN "RAGS"

When he first saw her she was fighting like a little wildcat. He loved her then and there for her "spunk," even though she was but an animated jumble of rags. Then he lost her, he thought forever. Years later he stepped through the doorway of his own palatial Eastern home and there, arrayed in the most fashionable creations of the Fifth Avenue modistes he saw—
Now don't be too sure. You may be wrong. It certainly is worth while to come and find out.

JOHNNY'S MANNERS.

Where the carefully trained child learns bad manners is a standing mystery to its watchful parents. These anxious rearers of the young are often heard propounding this query, but generally without result. Once in a while, however, out of the deep silence comes an illuminating answer.

Johnny furnished one just the other day. He had just finished a particularly toothsome dish of apple pudding, which he ate to the last morsel. Then, despite the fact that there was company at the table, he deliberately picked up his saucer and licked it clean.

"Johnny!" exclaimed his mother, after a horrified gasp. "Who did you ever see do a thing like that?"

"Dogs," replied Johnny.

The expenditures a year of the United States Reclamation Service are about $8,000,000.

A COMPLICATED WATCH.

That the art of making complicated watches of high quality services in London, is shown by a clock and calendar watch which was recently submitted to the Kew tests, being the first watch of its class to be so submitted. In the first place, it strikes the hours and quarters in passing, though it can be made silent if desired, and in the second it is a minute repeater. In addition it has an elaborate calendar mechanism showing the name of the day of the week, the name of the month and the phases of the moon. The date of the month is indicated by a pointer moving day by day round a semi-circle; an account is taken of leap year, the mechanism being constructed on a four years' style; thus when the last day of the month is reached, be it the 28, 29, 30 or 31, the pointer flies back to 1. The watch, which was made by a London firm, has a free-sprung escapement with overcoil hairspring, and in the Kew tests it received 77.8 marks out of a possible 100, being awarded 29.8 (out of a possible 40) in respect of variation of daily rate, 30.1 (out of 40) in respect of change of rate with change of position, and 17.9 (out of 20) for temperature compensation. The dial measures just over 2½ inches in diameter.

ORGANIZE A STAMP CLUB.

"Organize a stamp club in the city or town where you live! Take the initiative and call some of your philatelic chums together at your house," advises the Stamp Editor, Kent B. Stiles, in Boys' Life for May. "You will derive a lot of fun from it all and will add stamps to your collection by exchanging duplicates."

"For example, seven boys in the Jackson Heights section of Queens Borough, in New York City, met recently and formed the Jackson Heights Philatelic Society. They meet every fortnight and talk and trade stamps, and other boys in the community are joining, and the fathers who used to collect stamps—and one or two still collect—have taken an interest in the project. At the first meeting the stamp editor of Boys' Life was present by invitation; he brought along his collection of war stamps and addressed the Jackson Heights boys on these fascinating adhesives. Then officers were chosen, and a 50-cent initiation fee was decided upon, with dues fixed at 10 cents a meeting. This immediately provided a treasury to finance the purchase of a standard catalogue, hinges, watermark detector and other philatelic accessories and to subscribe to a philatelic weekly journal."

Possibly one reason for the censorship of the cables is to put a soft pedal on what the President thinks of those Republican Congressmen.

DEATHS.

ANDERSON.

—Mrs. Anna Letitia Anderson, aged eighty-one, died recently at home of her son, Mrs. Henry C. Anderson, at Dayton, Ohio. Mrs. Anderson was the widow of the late L. C. Anderson, of near North Middletown, who was formerly a member of the Bourbon Fiscal Court, and a well-known farmer of the North Middletown community. She is survived by three sons, Henry C. Anderson and Arthur F. Anderson, both of Dayton, Ohio, and P. S. Anderson, of Dover, Ky.

TALBOTT.

—The funeral of Miss Jennie Talbott, aged sixty-five, who died Tuesday morning in a Lexington hospital, where she had been under treatment for some time, was held from the residence of Miss Susie Horton, on Cypress street, with services conducted by Rev. W. E. Ellis. The burial followed on the family lot in the Paris Cemetery.

Miss Talbott was a daughter of the late Mr. Henry Talbott, of Little Rock, and was a sister of the late Gus Talbott, who for many years was connected with the Kentuckian-Citizen office in Paris.

PERKINS.

—Mrs. Mary H. Perkins, widow of the late Mr. J. Harvey Perkins, died at her home in Lexington, Sunday night, after a short illness. The funeral was held at the family residence Tuesday morning at ten o'clock with services conducted by Rev. Mark Collins. The burial followed in the Lexington Cemetery.

Mrs. Perkins was a daughter of Benjamin Huffman, and was born and reared in Bourbon county. She was a woman of beautiful Christian character, whose friends were numbered by hundreds. Her life was devoted to her home and her family.

STEPHENS.

—William Bruce Stephens, aged nine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Stephens, of near Paris, died at the Massie Memorial Hospital, in this city, about 7:30 o'clock yesterday morning, after a short illness. The little fellow was brought from his home to the hospital late Wednesday night, suffering from an attack of appendicitis. The attending physicians postponed operating on account of his critical condition. Peritonitis following, death ensued early yesterday morning.

He is survived besides his parents, Bruce and Ida Stephens, by one sister, Mattie E. Stephens, and two brothers, Wesley and Lowell Thomas Stephens. The body will be taken to Salem, in Harrison county, to-night, for burial.

ARMSTRONG.

—Mrs. Lina Armstrong, aged thirty-six, wife of Mr. Marion Armstrong, pump-hose engineer for the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company, died suddenly at her home on Third street, Tuesday about noon. Mrs. Armstrong suffered an attack of pneumonia and Spanish influenza during the epidemic of the past fall and winter, and never quite fully recovered from the effects. The heart trouble which carried her off was one of the after-effects.

Besides her husband, she is survived by one small son, Stanley Dotson; her mother, Mrs. Lizzie Welburn, of Florida; three sisters, Mrs. Fannie Graves, of Lexington; Mrs. Sallie Radcliffe and Miss Lola Welburn, both of Lexington.

The funeral arrangements had been deferred until last night awaiting the arrival of Mrs. Armstrong's mother, from Tampa, Florida. The body will be taken to Lexington for burial probably to-day.

ARE CORSETS LUXURIES?

The question of whether corsets are underwear is not one to be decided hastily, it was said at the Bureau of Internal Revenue. The bureau has been asked for a ruling on the question by the National Dry Goods Association. Retail merchants throughout the country have been advised through their national organization to collect the new luxury tax on corsets costing more than $5 until it can be determined whether corsets are a luxury or necessity. The tax will be refunded if the decision is adverse to the Government and favorable to the women.

One of the strangest things in this world is why a man would so much rather have a clean shave than that kind of teeth.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS ELECT NEW OFFICERS.

The recent meeting of Rathbone Lodge Knights of Pythias, was one of the most interesting of that organization for many months. The Knight Rank was conferred on six candidates in the presence of probably the largest attendance the lodge has had for a long time.

After the work by the degree team, the election of officers took place, resulting in the following selections being made:

Chancellor Commander, Walter Blythe; Vice Chancellor, Roscoe Carmichael; Prelate, Sello Wollstein; Master-at-Arms, Thos. Harp; Master-of-Work, Louis Wollstein; Keeper of Record and Seal, B. R. Dickerson; Master of Finance, John K. Cahal; Master of Exchequer, P. J. McCord; Inner Guard, B. C. Carmichael; Outside Guard, C. W. Fothergill.

The wives, daughters, sisters and sweethearts will accompany the Knights of Pythias on their all-day outing to the Pythian Home, at Lexington, some day this month. The program will be announced later.

BUYS NEW INTERESTS.

Mr. Alex Mellinger, formerly of Paris, where he was employed as engineer on the Louisville & Nashville railroad, has purchased the business of the Richmond Bottling Works of Mr. Emil Lerisch, and will conduct it in the future. Mr. Mellinger some time ago sold out his interest in the Richmond Hotel. He and his family are pleasantly remembered by Paris people. During their residence here they resided in a cottage in the Thornton Division.
